

An Independent Chapter of
American College of
Healthcare Executives
for leaders who care®

ACHE of MA Fall Conference Building Healthcare for the Future

December 1st - Session 3

Closing the Payment Gap: Innovation in Payment Models

5:00pm – 7:00pm

An Independent Chapter of
American College of
Healthcare Executives
for leaders who care®

COVID-19 – our most recent and still ongoing healthcare challenge, has come with misery, death, hardship, uncertainty, and economic challenge. For diverse communities, it has put a stark spotlight on the massive disparities they face in health conditions, access to care and further emphasized the need to pay more attention to the social determinants of health. Compounding the coronavirus challenges, horrifying acts of racism and violence against people of color were publicly exposed, putting yet another spotlight on inequities that have existed in our country for centuries and establishing without a doubt, that racism is a public health crisis.

As the pandemic merged individual and societal needs, providers, healthcare leaders, insurance companies, government and citizens did what had to be done despite all of the existing barriers. The entire healthcare community came together to innovate and effectively transform care as never before. Healthcare organizations focused on mission, temporarily disregarding the skyrocketing treatment expenses and loss of revenue that are significantly impacting their financial viability. We also witnessed daily humanism and heroism in every community and organization. Doctors, nurses, provider teams, support staff and essential workers rose to the challenge, putting their own lives and health in jeopardy beyond normal limits.

The uncertainty of the crisis bred innovation and caused major transformations in the healthcare system. As healthcare leaders where do we go from here? Will we revert to old methods or will this moment provide the catalyst to make meaningful change and re-imagine a health system that truly provides exceptional health to all regardless of race, creed, gender, sexual orientation, religion or economic circumstances and that focuses on the things that really matter?

An Independent Chapter of
American College of
 Healthcare Executives
for leaders who care®

Time	Virtual Event Happening
5:00 – 5:05 p.m.	Opening Remarks from ACHE of Massachusetts Outgoing President, John Fogarty, FACHE
5:05 – 6:00 p.m.	Keynote Address by Dr. Farzad Mostashari, CEO of Aledade
6:00 – 6:15 p.m.	Question and Answer Forum with Dr. Mostashari
6:15 – 6:25 p.m.	Benefits of ACHE Membership, presented by Rachel Wilson, ACHE of Massachusetts Chair of Membership
6:25 – 6:30 p.m.	Presentation of 2020 ACHE Service Awards by ACHE of Massachusetts President, Maureen Banks, FACHE
6:30 p.m.	Closing Remarks by Maureen Banks, FACHE

Conference Learning Objectives

- Why we must redesign our healthcare system and what this will take?
- Which leading organizations, states and countries are doing to provide superior care to all at a lower cost?
- How government, payors, providers, and regulatory bodies can facilitate a redesigned healthcare system.
- The changing expectations and demands of patients and the public.
- A roadmap for the healthcare system of the future.

Tonight’s Session Will Cover:

- How fundamental transformation in healthcare delivery will need to be predicated on innovation in payment models.

An Independent Chapter of
American College of
Healthcare Executives
for leaders who care®

Meet Tonight's Keynote

Farzad Mostashari, MD
Chief Executive Officer
Aledade

Co-Founder and CEO Farzad Mostashari, MD has spent his career at the forefront of healthcare policy and health information technology.

Dr. Mostashari is the former National Coordinator for Health IT at the Department of Health and Human Services, and served as a distinguished expert at the Brookings Institute's Engelberg Center for HealthCare Reform. Prior to his work at the Office of the National Coordinator, he founded the NYC Primary Care Information Project, which equipped 1,500 physicians in underserved communities with electronic health records.

He has spoken and written extensively on issues affecting health IT, ACOs, and health care policy and delivery. He has been published in the New York Times, the Journal of American Medical Association, and Health Affairs, among others. Dr. Mostashari received his MD from Yale University School of Medicine and his Masters in Population Health from Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health.

An Independent Chapter of
American College of
Healthcare Executives
for leaders who care®

2020 ACHE Service Award Recipients

Richard O. Berkman, LFACHE
Exemplary Service Award

Harold J. Berberick, edD, FACHE
Service Award

John P. Bihldorff, LFACHE
Service Award

Walter W. Diggs, LFACHE
Service Award

William P. Fleming, LFACHE
Distinguished Service Award

Richard H. Gregg
Service Award

Michael J. Koziol, CPA, FACHE
Service Award

Joseph S. McManus, LFACHE
Service Award

Paul Myoung, MHA, CLSSBB, FACHE
Service Award

Amit K. Powar, MD
Service Award

David J. Reisman, FACHE
Service Award

Philip J. Stoner, LFACHE
Service Award

An Independent Chapter of
American College of
Healthcare Executives
for leaders who care®

The Value of ACHE Membership

As a healthcare professional working in a hospital, health system, clinic, university, or other organization, membership gives you the opportunity to:

- Be among leaders in healthcare management
- Grow professionally and excel in your job
- Enjoy greater satisfaction and career potential
- Contribute to and give back to your profession

All ACHE members located in Massachusetts are automatically members of the Massachusetts chapter as a benefit of being an ACHE member.

If you have a minimum of a bachelor's degree and a commitment to the profession of healthcare management, then you are invited to join ACHE as a member. There is no better resource to have at your fingertips than the premier organization for healthcare executives. Annual dues are $160 per year for the first two years, $265 in years three through five and $345 after five years and $75 for student associate status.

To learn more about ACHE: <https://www.ache.org/membership/why-join-ache>

Become an ACHE member today!

An Independent Chapter of
American College of
Healthcare Executives
for leaders who care®

Thank You to Our Sponsors

CLOUDERA

Granite
State College

TD Bank

ZurickDavis
great people. great results.